DAILY STATION NEWS LETTER

Lochearnhead 2017

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY Be yourself, no matter what other people think, you were made the way you are for a reason. Besides, an original is always better than a copy.

IT'S RAINING AGAIN

Not just a song by Supertramp in the 70s (ask Hartley) but the station greeting in the morning. So to help us find out what is happening weather-wise we have re-introduced "The Weather Rock" which, unlike BBC weather, is 99% accurate. Using it is simple. Just follow these simple rules. If it's wet then it's raining. If it's dry then it ISN'T raining. If you can't see the rock then it is foggy - if you can then it's clear. If it's swinging then it's windy. If the rock is white then it has been snowing. If the rock has disappeared then there must've been a hurricane.

Great Footwork

Congrats to Cameron of Patrol F who earned them a Locodile point for this wonderful drawing he did of Josh at last nights evening entertainment

BY USING ONLY HIS FEET!

They are back

Jack "My feet are wet" Dylan "My feet are wet"
Revae "My feet are wet" Freya "My feet are wet"
Ian "My feet are wet" Richard "My feet are wet"

Goodie "Nope. Aren't some people annoying"

And yet more visitors

LBD Scouts were very proud to welcome to the Lochearnhead station a group of 30 Scouts and Guides from Luxembourg led by Leader in charge, Sebastian. They were seeking shelter from Scotlands changeable weather during their two week trek along both the West Way and Rob Roy Way. For many of the group it was their first time in sunny(?) Scotland but Sebastian actually only lives just down the road in Glasgow. This years trek started in Milngarvie and will terminate in Pitlochrie and follows many previous walks Sebastian has done all across Europe. Thank you Sebastian for dropping in on us and may you have a safe and hopefully drier journey.

Tuesdays Activities

Max:- I thought that the swimming was fun however it got cold quickly. I liked the fact that all the tiles were heated.

Alfie:- When you jump in it makes a splash. The walls were so hard that I had two attempts. I am going to sleep well tonight.

Darcy:- Evelyn found a lost key. She was so, so cool and clever.

Evelyn:- I found the lost key at the swimming pool. It was where I expected it to be at the bottom of the pool. Then we went climbing. Lots of people touched the top and went up the sloped part. It was soooo fun!!

Edward:- It was a splashy experience.

Kacey:- The overhang was very hard but I managed to climb to the top and I would do it again. It was extremely fun.

Welcome back to the station yesterday afternoon to the Explorers in both A and B Patrols from their 3 day hike, with a special mention to George Packham who, during the hike, assisted an injured colleague off the mountain, then returned back up the mountain and completed the hike with the rest of the hikers.

Although it was raining the cycling was amazing and you got to see some really amazing views and going around the countryside was cool. The hill was quite steep but going down was fun.
by Josh

We sailed to the island and went to explore. There was a 'LOGODILE' in the water which we tried to put in our boat but the Gummy Beavers in the Loch would find more use for it.

Charlie

It was fun but scary at times as we nearly capsized. We picked up speed on the last bit and watched the other boats behind us.

AND FINALLY remember that unless you're specifically excused from 'Evening Activities' please return to the Dining Room after dinner/Patrol Briefings to take part. Also, don't forget to complete your Patrols Scavenger Hunt & party piece before Friday in addition to the daily activities.
